WHEN FORD ENCOUNTERS FORD

Its all right for Mr. Henry Ford to flirt with the presidency of the United States of America, but he should keep his little Fords out of mischief in the meantime. Wednesday two Fords, Mr. Touring Car Ford and Mr. Coupe Ford endeavored to pass a truck at the same time and the same place near San Carlos. As they both couldn't pass the coupe struck his brother in the nose and crashed in his radiator. The Touring Car counter and came back, and hustled Coupe's front wheel into kindling wood. Then they both skidded off the road and each knocked down a couple of fence posts in the operation.

Nobody was hurt during the engagement, but there will be some heavy repair bill on both sides.

ATTORNEY O'KEEFE FIGHTS TO PRESERVE PEBBLE BEACH

Attorney Jafes T. O'Keefe appeared before the San Mateo county board of supervisors at their regular meeting last Monday with a petition asking them to take some action to prevent the destruction of Pebble Beach, a public park, by the hauling away of wagon loads of pebbles which are being used by a concrete contractor. O'Keefe read a description of the formation of Pebble Beach by an eminent geologist who claims that the beach is the only one of its kind known. The beach was made a public park by an act of the state legislature introduced by Attorney O'Keefe while he was a representative of this district.

O'Keefe asked that the board have the removal of the pebbles in commercial quantities was a misdemeanor and punishable by law, and also that the constable of the Fifth township be ordered to arrest any one found removing the pebbles in large quantities. It was therefore ordered on a motion of Supervisor MacBain, seconded by Supervisor Hickey, that the clerk notify the constable of the Fifth township that Pebble Beach is a public park and that mutilating the beach is a misdemeanor.

District Attorney Swart presented a resolution confirming the action taken by Supervisor C. V. Thompson in making an agreement with the Southern Pacific Company to lay the sewer pipe from the new county hospital across the right of way of that company. This resolution was passed by the board.

Reports were received from all county officers and read. A petition was presented by Superintendent of Schools, Roy W. Cloud, for the trustees of the San Mateo School district to have the name of the district changed to the Peninsula High School district. This matter was set for hearing on July 2, upon motion of Supervisor Brown seconded by Supervisor Hickey.

A communication was received from the Associated Aeries of Eagles, asking that the board aid in having the Colma Drum Corps sent to the meeting of the Grand Aerie in Colorado. This matter was referred to the district attorney, to decide whether the board could legally use money for this purpose.

Mrs. Uhlenberg Dies Suddenly

Coming without any warning, the death of Mrs. Marie Christina Uhlenberg this week was a sad shock to the many friends of the bereaved family. Mrs. Uhlenberg, though a long sufferer, had felt better last week than she had for some time and the hopes of the family were that she was on the way to recovery. On Friday morning, however, she was taken violently ill and passed away within a very few minutes.

The deceased lady was a native of Slesvig, Denmark, and was 55 years of age, of this time thirty years had been spent in Redwood City, in which time she had endeared herself to all who knew her. Mrs. Uhlenberg was a gentle Christian woman, and a faithful worker in the Congregational church, of which she had long been a member. Mrs. Uhlenberg, leaves her husband, C. G. Uhlenberg, two sons, Christian and Louis Uhlenberg, of this city and one daughter, Mrs. Fred Irwin of Philadelphia, who was visiting with her parents at the time of her mother's death.

A farewell reception was tendered Prof. M. E. Rogers, principal of the Pescadero grammar school, who is leaving Pescadero to take up a similar position in the Half Moon Bay grammar school. Prof. Rogers has had two very successful years while in charge of the local school, and leaves with the high commendation of his great many friends, most of whom gathered at the auditorium of the Community Center on Saturday night to present him with tokens of their regard.

"Help Help!" This is not murder. It is merely the cry the loyal planters are putting up in a rash season of artichoke cutting and green pea picking. What they want is assistance—and they want it right away. Men—good men, any old kind of men, just so that they can cut artichokes and pick peas—and stick to it; and it's quite a job to stick to it. This is not an ad to help want columns. It is merely to tell the world that Pescadero is growing artichokes and peas, and growing them second to no place on the continent if things we hear even approximate the truth, and they do.

No end of people from the "valley" have been crowding the coast beaches these days, taking in a refreshing breath or two of our sea-cooled atmosphere. They tell us that the other side of the ridge has been experiencing a considerable wave of mid-June heat. Here it is Indian summer all the time.

Mr. Bradshaw, formerly taught in Kansas. He was captain of the Nevada University football team and was the All American quarter back for 1921. Pithy Pointers From Pescadero

Considerable satisfaction is being felt rather generally here over the success the Pescadero school experienced in the Pageant of Progress. The grammar school carried away a great number of blue ribbons and a trophy, while the high school was awarded a blue ribbon for the special feature exhibit.

On Tuesday the road builders invaded the heart of town to begin work on the paving of the main Rialto. A full width oil-macadamized street in the business section of our little place must certainly be counted among the big improvements in the history of Pescadero. If it does not give us a precisely the ground work for it; for a community can hardly be more than a jump or two ahead of its street system.

The real beauty of the new Pescadero National Bank is becoming more and more apparent as the finishing touches are being put on. The front elevation is now about completed and reveals a rich architecture of the classical period. This building rests in its setting of surrounding hills quite like a prophetic jewel; it is probably the beginning of our renaissance, and the happiest forecast of the eventual big things that are inevitable here.

News of Busy Runnymede

The home-coming meeting of the Woman's Club was one of the best meetings of the year. Of the 14 charter members, ten were present, and over 100 guests were served by the hostesses during the social hour. A short business session was held and it was voted to have a vacation during July and August. It was the sense of the meeting, also, that a request be put in the paper for property owners try to keep all shrubbery by the roadside cut, as an accident had just been barely escaped at the foot of Cooley, where the view is obstructed.

A short Memorial service was held for Mrs. Marie Reagan, Mrs. Myra Nichols, a past president and Mrs. Mammie Creighton. This is the first year our club circle has been broken. Mrs. E. R. Lam had charge of this service.

This was the annual meeting for the election of officers and the following were elected:

President, Mrs. Lena Follett; Vice-president, Miss Mary Wilken; Secretary, Mrs. Harry Merwin; Treasurer, Mrs. John Burger; Parliamentarian, Mrs. J. B. Maynard; Program Committee, Mesdames Frank Nickerson, E. R. Tait, R. S. Wolverson, S. W. Hull, Geo. Hand and Wm. Gurr.

One new member was added to the roll, Mrs. Frank Hand. Mrs. A. C. Matteson had charge of the program, the topic being, "What California Can do and has done for the World."

Mrs. S. W. Hull and Frank Hand sang two duets which were much enjoyed. Mrs. Ella Epperson read a most excellent paper on "What California has done for the World." Mrs. C. N. Straun and Mrs. Ralph Wolverson read original poems which will be published in the next issue of "One Chas and Independence," and Mrs. Chas. Weeks, who came up from Owensmouth, read a most interesting paper on the early days of the club.

The study of California has been a most interesting one, every meeting being largely attended and much enjoyed.

The hostesses for the September meeting are Mesdames Alice Needham, W. A. McElhattan, F. Mertins, M. Olson and Nystrom.

On Friday night the Runnymede 49'er club will have a meeting and all those taking part in the pageant are asked to attend. It will be at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The 49'er ball Wednesday night was another big success and so popular have they been that it was announced another would be given on the evening of the 21st, Thursday, with the same music and same old fashioned dances.

Mrs. Peter Hansen and little grand daughter, Hazel, visited at the E. R. Lam home last week and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Parker and daughter, Margaret, were also visitors at their home for a few days.

Mrs. Hugh Patterson is in a San Francisco hospital at present.

A new well is being drilled on the McElhattan property.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Larsen of Boise, Idaho, and Mrs. W. Ralston of Newcastle are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tremelling.

The loganberry season is starting and promises to bring a big crop again this year with a promising outlook for better prices owing to the shortage of the strawberry crop this spring.

WITH THE EDITORS IN YOSEMITE

The several newspaper publishers of this county are having a royal time in the Yosemite and according to reports there have been many wonderful tales of adventure after the mule rides which the publishers have taken.

Mr. D. E. O'Keefe of the Gazette viewed all of the points of interest via donkey back and his ideas of California have been enhanced by the beautiful scenes he has visited.

Mr. Hedge and Mr. Mork have likewise become expert at donkey raidering. It isn't every man who can keep from slipping over a burrow's head when he goes down a Yosemite trail. So we may expect to see some editors take polo when they come back from their jaunt.

Remarks From Pretty Woodside

Joy has entered the hearts of the Woodside youngsters, for Friday marked the last day of the school year. A program of recitations, songs and music preceded the distribution of promotion certificates and this formality was followed by a spread of icecream and cake. And to lighten the joy at release from school, today presents the annual picnic of the Sunday School. This will be held in the redwood grove on the estate of James Huddart, and it the affairs of this kind are taken as a model for the one today, it promises much joy to the children and to the accompanying parents as well.

The illness of Mrs. Keaton, mentioned last week, proved of short duration. In one week from the day she was stricken, she passed beneath "that tent whose curtains never utter a word," leaving another empty place in our Woodside community.

It is not always easy to strike a satisfactory balance between sunshine and shadow. A situation that looks delightful on a hot day in August may seem dark and dismal in autumn and winter. So Hugh O'Neill is moving his house out from under the overhanging branches of a large live oak tree in order that it may get more warmth from the direct rays of the sun.

The haying season has begun, and Bill Byrnes assures me that not with the overhanging branches of a large live oak tree in order that it may get more warmth from the direct rays of the sun.

Joe L. Ross, Jr., has purchased a new car of the popular make. He sold his coupe of the same brand a short time ago and opined that he would try a Packard next time, but the lure of the dancing doll was too great. So he went back to the dealer and called for another of the same kind.

Word received here from C. T. Bradley indicates the prospect of a record season at Tahoe this summer. Large numbers of eastern visitors to the N. E. A. convention have made their reservations for accommodations at the lake.

MORE TROUBLE IN STANLEY WILL CASE

Decisively defeated in a suit brought by him against Attorneys Fitzpatrick and Kincaid, in which he attempted to gain control of money left by his mother's will to his grandnephew, Mrs. Lydia H. Barney, Benjamin Stanley is again trying to cause trouble for the attorneys who are safeguarding the interests of the aged Mrs. Barney. This time, not satisfied with attacking the two attorneys in the case, Stanley is trying to involve the superior judge, George H. Buck, and charges him with fraud in selecting the jury, which tried the case in which he lost last month.

If Stanley succeeds in securing a new trial, which would be the sixth, it is felt that it will end as the others have been in favor of the defendants, as according to those who are acquainted with the case, the plaintiff has no case against the attorneys who have acted squarely in all their dealings. Stanley is represented in all his trials by Attorney Bush of San Francisco.

RETURNS TO REDWOOD

Phillip Clarkin arrived home from New Jersey Wednesday evening after a month's visit there with brothers and sisters. He had a pleasant time, so he said, but the heat interfered somewhat with his program. He found great activity everywhere and found everybody prosperous and doing well. After all, he was glad to get home. The excessive heat at times made it unbearable and he is now convinced that there is no place like California, and particularly Redwood City.

A PRACTICAL WELCOME

With the many natural camping places surrounding it, Redwood City should have a free camping ground where, during the camping season, autoist may stop for the night and enjoy the facilities offered by other up-to-date towns, where the visiting tourist is given a practical welcome, which will leave him with a favorable impression of his stay. We remember a camp where we once stopped, maintained by the City of Oroville. Here the tourist was offered free water and the finest of camping facilities. Such a camp is an advertisement and an asset to a town, which pays in good will many times its cost to the town.

ALWAYS ON THE JOB

We haven't said much about our circulation lately because we felt that we didn't need to. We knew that since our subscription campaign of last fall practically every home in Redwood City, Menlo Park, San Carlos, Belmont, Atherton, Woodside, Portola and Pescadero welcomes the Times-Gazette at the end of the week.

We lay no claim to greatness, but we try to give to the people a good clean paper. We know that our advertisers get full value for every cent spent with us. We have been on the job for sixty-four years in Redwood City. If you want to know about anything that happened here during those sixty-four years we can find it for you in our files. If you want to keep abreast of the local affairs you will find them chronicled week by week. We expect to boost for our community as we have boosted in the past. We want the support of all the good people of this section and in return we will continue on the job at the same old place in the best little town in the State of California.

EDUCATIONAL EXHIBITS

Those of us who attended the Peninsula Pageant of Progress at San Carlos were most favorably impressed with the excellent showing made by the elementary and high schools of San Mateo county.

The work produced by the local boys and girls is deserving of more than passing notice. The drawings were marvelously well done. The manual training projects showed both skill and carefulness in their construction and the dresses and fancy work which were displayed were neatly and tastefully done. The variety of subjects presented was also a surprising thing and a good many people got a different conception of our schools than they had previously held.

It is a good thing to let people know about the doings of our educational system. Too many feel that just dry as dust subjects are studied and a smattering of information given. We are happy to say that such is not the case in San Mateo county. Here our teachers are wide awake and up-to-date and as a result our children have a most efficient and interesting school system.

THE EL CAMINO REAL

A friend of ours sat down in the office the other day and began to talk about Redwood City. During his conversation he remarked that the appearance of the Highway through the town gave people a bad impression concerning our city. He spoke of the fact that weeds grow practically all along the El Camino from one end of town to the other.

We hadn't thought of the fact before, but we can see that a passer-by is not impressed favorably by weeds.

Redwood City has a head gardener and several assistant gardeners who care for our several parks. We think it would be a fine thing to secure the consent of the property owners along El Camino, and have bright colored flowers planted between the sidewalks and property line clear through town. A little attention would keep the flowers in good condition. People would then come to know Redwood City as the "Flower Town," and such a name would not only give very enviable popularity but it would also help to increase the population.

BUNDLE DAY IN REDWOOD CITY

This week the youth of Redwood City are putting into action the suggestion set forth pictorially in the Near East Relief booth at the San Carlos fair. The assemblage of clothing, good strong suits and sweaters, shoes, blankets and baby dresses heaped high in the high and grammr school halls, attest the enthusiasm of the boys and girls of this town and their realization that the "world it at our door" and that a good ship like the one on the canvas in the booth does make "a pathway of good will" from "the Peninsula of Progress to the Peninsula of Distress."

Hundreds of homes in Redwood City are closing the week with the good feeling that they have had a part in preventing pneumonia taking the heavy toll this coming winter that it has during the past months.

From Turkey, the Peninsula of Desolation, two and a quarter millions have been burned out and driven out of home and country. In Greece, now the Peninsula of Destruction and in the Holy Land, the haven of restitution, the victims of Turkish atrocities are brought—free now from massacre, they only await the food and clothing on the "Mexican" and kindred ships to free them from pestilence and carry them forward toward the coveted self support.

The high and grammr school students have done a noble deed. Additional bundles left at any one of the churches may yet find their way to the "Mexico," which has been delayed in sailing until Tuesday.

CITY TRUSTEES OPPOSE BRIDGE AT COYOTE POINT

The board of Trustees of Redwood City met in regular session last Monday night and attended to routine matters attending upon the first meeting of the month. Aside from the passing of claims which occupied the greater portion of the evening, nothing of interest transpired.

Reports were received from the tax collector, treasurer, building, plumbing and electrical inspector, and pound master, the latter reporting: "Dogs on hand for May—4 dead ones and 5 live ones."

An application was received from Sam Tong of Palo Alto to open and operate a laundry at 420 Maple St. The application was accompanied by the usual fee of $5 and by a communication from Adolph Plump, owner of the property, which letter stated that the building to be occupied was built for a laundry and was in conformity to the state regulations regarding the same. The permit was granted upon a motion by Trustee Hoeger, seconded by Trustee Monteth.

A request for permission to hold a dance in the I. O. O. F. hall until 1 o'clock on the night of June 9th was received from the O. K. Club. Permission was granted.

A communication was received from the Firemen's Fund Insurance Company stating that the insurance on the Seagrave fire truck would expire on July 13, and asking to have it renewed. The board ordered the policy renewed upon a motion made by Trustee Hoeger and seconded by Trustee Monteth.

A resolution was drawn up by City Attorney Mansfield and proposed by Trustee Monteth, reading as follows:

WHEREAS, the Town of Redwood City is situated on Redwood Creek, an arm of the San Francisco Bay, and has annexed certain lands fronting on deep water near the mouth of said creek; and

WHEREAS, the United States government has from time to time appropriated funds to develop said water front; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Trustees of said Town of Redwood City desires to encourage the location of industrial plants on its water front; and

WHEREAS, the said Board of Trustees believes that a low level bridge across San Francisco Bay north of Redwood Creek and between Little Coyote Point and the Alameda county restricting the present channel which is exposed to the full sweep of the wind and tide and frequent fog, will interfere with and menace navigation to and from Redwood City;

NOW THEREFORE, the Board of Trustees of the Town of Redwood City does hereby formally protest against permitting the construction of said proposed bridge, and does hereby direct that a certified copy of this resolution be forthwith forwarded by said clerk to Herbert Deakne, Colonel, Corps of Engineers, San Francisco, California.

This resolution was unanimously passed by the board. There being no further business the board adjourned until next Monday night at which time a special meeting will be held to consider some contracts.

Scott Will Filed; Leaves $10,000

The will of Mrs. Elsie H. Scott, Hillsborough society matron, who died on May 19 after a long illness, was filed for probate here Monday by her husband, Henry T. Scott, prominent San Francisco capitalist. The will is dated February 25, 1923, and leaves the entire estate, valued at less than $10,000 to her husband, Mrs. Scott purposely avoided any provision for her three children, Harry Scott, Prescott Scott and Mrs. Walter S. Martin, declaring that she had full confidence in her husband to see that they are properly taken care of.

BONZAGNI'S NEW LA HONDA LODGE FINELY REBUILT

Alfred Bonzagni, proprietor of Bonzagni's Forest Lodge at La Honda, is having his mountain resort, which has been attractively rebuilt since the fire which destroyed the former building last year, decorated for the coming season in an artistic and interesting manner. A frieze has been designed on all four walls of the big dining room representing scenes on the La Honda and Alpine roads, and the landscape is the work of scenery painter, that one familiar with the country surrounding the famous mountain inn can recognize each hill and turn in the road.

The season of festivity is just commencing at the lodge, but many guests are already enjoying the hospitality and excellent cuisine of the establishment. Some well known guests have already taken advantage of the beautiful scenery of the mountain inn. Lord and Lady Lansbury were visitors at Bonzagni's last week and declared the place the best they have met with on their travels. Lord Lansbury entertained the guests at the lodge by playing several selections on a violin which he had the popular tune for him.

Plans are already underway for the celebration of the fall of the battle at the lodge.

POPULAR SOUTH CITY COUPLE MARRIED

At high noon last Tuesday, Rev. Clayton L. Peck, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church united in wedlock Frank A. Dornay and Florence L. Brown, both of South San Francisco. The young couple, who have known the popular pastor during his residence in the "windy" city, came to Redwood in order to have him perform the ceremony.

Miss Brown has been the cashier of the South San Francisco water company. Mr. Dornay is employed with the Western Meat Packing Co. in the same city. Both of the young people are very popular with the younger set of South San Francisco, and were tendered a shower by some of their friends last week in anticipation of their approaching marriage.

The bride was attended at the marriage service by Miss Edna Stahl of South San Francisco, while her brother, Edward E. Brown, acted as best man. After a short honeymoon the young folks will be at home to their many friends in a pretty cottage which Mr. Dornay has prepared for his bride at 638 Miller avenue in South San Francisco.

A RARE BOOK OF HISTORICAL INTEREST

We have been loaned through the kindness of Mr. Ed Weeks of Pescadero, a copy of a history of San Mateo county printed in 1883. This book is very rare, we believe, and contains an account of many of the early happenings in this county which have been printed, so far as we know, in no other publication. We have taken great pleasure in reading some of the incidents told in this book, which is written in a readable, active style; and for the benefit of some of our readers who are interested in the early history of the county in which they live we will print from time to time, excerpts of this work. The following article deals with the first visit of white men to what is now San Mateo county, and though the incident may be more familiar to the general reader than some we shall print later, yet the details given of the travels of Don Gaspar de Portola are not generally known.

The Spanish Period

The history of San Mateo county dates back to the time when California was first visited by the white man. Point Ano Nuevo, its southwestern extremity, derives its name from having been sighted by Don Sebastian Vizcaino, on January 1, 1603. The discovery of the bay of San Francisco, which bathes the eastern shore of the county has long been a matter of dispute. Some have claimed the honor for Sir Francis Drake, who, in his marauding expedition of 1577-8, put into what was then and long after called the "Port of San Francisco." But, that this Spanish port of San Francisco, entered by Drake 1578, wherein the Philippine galleon, San Augustin, was wrecked in 1595, and which Vizcaino also visited in 1603, is not the same as that which now bears the name, has been fairly established from ancient records recently brought to light by the California Historical Society. The present bay of San Francisco remained unknown, down to the year 1769, when Jose Galvez, the visitor general of New Spain, determined upon the occupation of Upper California. For this purpose two expeditions were simultaneously dispatched from Lower California, the one by land, the other by sea. The overland one, under the command of Don Gaspar de Portola, the first governor of California, reached San Diego on the first day of July in the year named and after a short rest there resumed its northward march on the fourteenth of the same month. Two schooners, the San Jose and the Principe had been directed to follow up the coast, and a rendezvous appointed at the bay of Monterey, described by Vizcaino as a magnificent port and which Galvez designed to occupy as the base for his new colony. After numerous vicissitudes, Portola's expedition descending the valley of the Salinas river, reached its mouth October 1st. Unable on hasty reconnaissance to find the "magnificent port" described by Vizcaino, and misled by a fog bank into the belief of another headland immediately north of Point Ano Nuevo, the adventurers continued their journey and on the 30th of the month, reached Point Corral de Tierra, and camped on the site of the present town of Half Moon Bay. The headland to the west of them Father Crespi, the chaplain of the expedition called "Point Guardian Angel," but the more worldly minded soldiers, from the abundance of mussels found there, gave it the name of "Punta de Almejas," or Mussel Point. When or how it got the name of Punta Corral de Tierra is unknown to us.

In attempting to go further up the coast, the ascent of the first ridge revealed to the observers of the expedition, far to the N. W. Point Reyes, with the bay of San Francisco under its lee, and the Farallones to the seaward, and confirmed the suspicion which had for the past month distracted the leaders of the expedition, that they had long since passed by the famous port of Monterey, without finding it. A halt was called and a counter march decided on.

But preliminary to returning from their unsuccessful search, Sergeant Ortega, with a party of soldiers, was dispatched over the hills to the northeast, to explore and report on the character of the country to be found there. Three days were allowed for this examination, and in the meantime the men were allowed to hunt at discretion through the neighboring hills. On the evening of November 2, some of the hunters returned announcing the discovery of an immense arm of the sea extending from the ocean inland. This was confirmed on the following day by the return of Ortega's party, who announced these glad tidings in advance by discharges of musketry, waving of flags, etc. Animated by their unlooked for intelligence, Portola broke up camp the following day and struck out over the hills to the north eastward. From the summit of these hills the party looked down on our noble bay which in their admiration they termed another Mediterranean Sea. They turned seaward, following the Canada Ramundo with the idea of setting around the head of the bay, and so reach Point Reyes and the port of San Francisco, lost for one hundred and sixty years. On the 6th of November they camped on the northerly bank of San Francisco creek, not far from where Governor Stanford's house now stands. Explorers were again sent out, but as these reported that they again became wider beyond the point we now know as Ravenswood, and extended to an unknown distance southward, alarm at the rashness of their undertaking began to prevail, and they arrested their march in fact their powers were spent, and it was well they decided to attempt no more, for to have pursued their journey further in their exhausted condition, might have resulted in the loss of the whole party.

The discoveries they had made it was important to preserve. Their provisions were almost exhausted, several of their numbers had died, and more than half the remainder were down with scurvy. The native inhabitants showed signs of hostility, and the winter of an unknown region was at hand. A council was held and it was voted unanimously to retrace their steps.

Don't take chances—take ICE!

Why do you place food in an open window? To keep it cool, of course. You know that warmth makes food spoil.

But do you also know that the temperature necessary to preserve most foods must be lower than 50 degrees? Do you know that the bacteria and dust laden air, which causes spoilage, has easy access to food kept in the open?

Don't rely upon the open window or the cooler. The only sure way to preserve food is to keep it in a refrigerator—at the proper temperature, free from dust and germs. Use ice every day.

BOY SCOUTS TO GO ON HIKE SUNDAY

The local Scout troop was out in full force in the gym, last night, making arrangements for their first "hike" to Searsville lake Sunday morning. A great deal of enthusiasm prevailed and Scout Master Mullen gave final instructions in their conduct in the day's outing.

The Scout movement in this town promises to eclipse any former efforts and the local towns people are showing extreme interest in the promised development of the boys.

All precautions are being taken to make the day devoid of accidents and all should return home tired and happy.

Firestone Prices on Fabric and Cord Passenger Car Tires and Tubes, also Solid and Pneumatic Truck Tires Will Advance May 1st

The postponement of this price revision is possible only because of our realization of the price danger in the British Crude Rubber Restriction Act which became effective November 1, 1922. We were fortunate in our rubber purchases before the Restriction Act increased the price of crude rubber 150%.

We have always endeavored to champion the cause of better made tires delivered at lowest cost to the tire user by economic manufacturing and distribution. And we are glad of the opportunity to give the car-owner the additional saving at this time.

Firestone Cords embody certain special processes which result in their producing mileage records, heretofore unheard-of in the industry. Among the more important of these superior methods are blending, tempering, air-bag cure and double gum-dipping.

Firestone Dealers are co-operating with us in our movement to supply your needs at present prices as long as their stock lasts and we have advised our dealers that we will supply them with additional tires this month only so far as our output will permit.

See the nearest Firestone Dealer. Purchase a set of these Gum-Dipped Cords. Prove for yourself their remarkable mileage advantages and easy riding qualities.

IMMAR SCHOOL WARDED TROPHY AT PAGEANT

lpal A. E. Montiehi of the Redwood City grammar schools, is the recipient of a letter from the secretary of the Peninsula Fair Association stating that the booth and the Redwood City grammar schools at the fair at San Carlos are to be recognized as such a character as to deserve the highest award. Individuals were not awarded to any children whose work was on display at the booth at the request of Mr. Montiehi. As the space allotted to the schools was only large enough for the exhibition of about a dozen works of art, the committee for the fair, Mr. Montiehi, stated that it would be unfair to those who had their work on display if the work could not be on display. Individual awards made to the schools were made after to reward awards that the schools as a whole be awarded a

al Attorney ied for Divorce was filed yesterday in the Court by Mrs. J. J. Bullock against J. J. Bullock, local.

Mrs. Bullock charges ex-husband and cites a long list of reasons for the complaint. Mrs. Bullock is the third wife of the attorney, his first wife being still alive and his second wife dead. The attorney's divorce was not a surprise to Mrs. Bullock, who is familiar with the business of the courthouse, as it had been expected since the filing of a petition for divorce against his step-daughter, Miss Marie Kaste, for reasons of her property, most of which was placed in her name.

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

The friends of James C. Murray are very much alarmed of the outcome of his illness. The doctors have no hope for his recovery, and they claim the end is near. Mr. Murray is a native of the county and an early resident of Portola, and has spent most of his life in the county. He was formerly superintendent of the Palo Alto Stock Farm and during the war was in charge of the instruction regarding horse-shoeing and was at Camp Fremont in that capacity for two years.

Miss Gierest of Half Moon Bay is visiting friends here. She is a student at the California University and is preparing to teach languages in high schools.

Several bids have been made for the McCall property in the Dominga tract. The property consists of four big lots, the old building and out buildings. The property will soon be knocked down to the biggest bidder. It is selling at a bargain. Get your bid in at once. See James G. Mason, the executor of the estate.

A new store is about to start and a new firm will compete with all others in prices and quality of goods sold. See big ad next week in another column.

The people of Menlo are about to have a new bank. The property has already been selected and work will begin next week. The permit has already been granted.

James Donigan, a retired captain of police of the San Francisco department, has purchased two acres near Santa Cruz avenue and is about to move down with his family.

Mrs. Henry Smith and daughters Rosalie and Jessica, are spending a few days visiting friends in Los Angeles and Hollywood.

A large appropriation has been made for further improvements at the Base Hospital. New buildings will be erected and the grounds improved. The Nash property adjoining the Base Hospital has been bought by the government as it is thought further building will be made. It has been rumored that the government wants to buy 100 acres close by the hospital for agricultural purposes.

A contract has been let for the erection of 14 new buildings on North Palo Alto. The buildings will be sold on the installment plan, and already a number of purchasers have come forward to select some of the buildings.

Mrs. Frederick W. Sharon, who has been in New York for months, is on the way to San Francisco and will be there shortly for the summer. She will not open her home here this summer, but will be at the Palace Hotel.

Thomas Hesketh, son-in-law of Mrs. Sharon, was recently elected a member of the House of Commons and is deeply interested in the work before him. For this reason there is little probability of the Hesketh family coming to California this summer, as Mr. Hesketh's duties will oblige him to be in London all summer and in fact most of the time, as Parliament is almost continuously in session.

Louis Fortney is about to start business and intends to supply the community with building materials. He will conduct business under the firm name of Western Builders Supplies. His place of business is close to the railroad track opposite the Duff home on the State Highway. Mr. Fortney will employ a large number of men and intends to do a big business.

John T. Mirzan has purchased 5 acres near the cemetery and will soon start to build. Mr. Mirzan is prominent San Francisco business man and intends to send his boys to Stanford University.

Mr. J. Hayes of Los Angeles, was here during the week looking for a suitable place to buy as he intends to move his family here by the first of the month.

Rehearsals are being held here every Saturday for the children's horse show and circus to be given here June 23 for the benefit of the Stanford Convalescent Home at Palo Alto. Since the incorporation of the organization to hold the annual circus the members have purchased a tract of land in the old Atherton estate and are building a clubhouse, which is nearly completed and having a graded track and a circus ring.

There is keen competition over who is to be queen of the circus, and there is a constant shifting of position as the votes come in. At present Miss Evelyn Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Taylor, is ahead, with Dora Dunphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dunphy, and Miss Mary Julia Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hamilton, close contestants.

With the opening of the country homes at Menlo Park and the vicinity there has been a good deal of gaiety down the peninsula, much of which centers around the Menlo Park Country Club.

The baseball at Palo Alto was a good game, but the Menlo team lost on the last inning. The game tomorrow at Palo Alto is between Redwood City and Palo Alto. A good game is looked for.

It is said that the post office will soon have a new location. The present quarters seem not to meet the requirements of the government and that another building is needed. The contract for the same has already been let.

The parochial school closed yesterday for the summer vacation and the graduates will receive their diplomas tomorrow at the ceremony of the presentation of the K. of C. medal to one of the pupils who won the second prize.

Peter Flannigan who was in charge of the athletics at Camp Fremont during the war is now secretary of the K. of C. at the Base Hospital. Flannigan was about to receive the lieutenant's medal when the war closed. He was very popular with the officers and men at the camp. He was recommended to the position by Prof. Maloney at Stanford University and served throughout the war as an athletic instructor. He has many friends in Menlo and Palo Alto.

The old Laughlin lot is about to be sold and it has been rumored that an up-to-date building will be erected. The lot was purchased during the week inspecting the lot and it is said that the contact will be shortly let for the new building.

Establishment of Sutter's Fort

JOHN SUTTER, a Swiss adventurer, explorer and pioneer brought a party of 20 people from the Sandwich Islands in 1839 and obtained from the government of Spain a grant of land in the Sacramento Valley for colonization purposes.

The government, considering Sutter friendly and progressive, gave him almost unlimited power. Having located his fort for the protection of his colony on the Sacramento River, he was in a position to extend help and hospitality and build up a fortune. All travel north and south and all emigration from the east touched at this point.

Sutter's Fort is still standing in the city of Sacramento—the capital city of the state—where one of the important branches of the Bank of Italy is located—and where the great historic celebration, "Days of '49" was held last year.
